

FROM RESISTANCE TO RESILIENCE

Change Navigator® from Discovery Learning, Intl. is a revolutionary new tool for change leaders that takes participants on a journey through the stages of transition that are common to periods of change and helps people to understand and navigate them. Change Navigator is a change process model that has been designed from the ground up to help individuals accept and support change initiatives faster. Supported by decades of adult behavioral research, Change Navigator is a new way of approaching organizational change that focuses on the emotions of the individuals whose buy-in and support are critical to a project's success.

“Change Navigator not only helped my team understand the resistance we were facing during a major change initiative; it also helped us understand how to move forward. Next time I will use Change Navigator at the beginning of the change rather than half way through.”
